

Belize News | Top Stories

December 14, 2011

Belize Natural Energy Loses Exploration License

7 News Belize reports that Belize Natural Energy (BNE) has lost the license to continue oil exploration in the only commercial oil fields currently under production.

The license was awarded to Perenco Limited. BNE has been the only company to find oil in Belize over 50 years. View the complete story at 7 News Belize |

BNE Exploration License Awarded To Another Company

New World Oil and Gas Believe they are Making Good Progress on the Ground

Broker Shore Capital, released a statement claiming that New World Oil and Gas is making good progress. New World is focused in Central America, including the Blue Creek project in Belize. View the complete story at proactiveinvestors.com | New World Oil and Gas making good progress, says Shore Capital

Prince Harry Plans to Visit Belize

The San Pedro Sun reported that Prince Harry plans to visit Belize as part of the Royal Family's 2012 celebration to commemorate the Queen's diamond jubilee. View the complete story at the San Pedro Sun | Prince Harry will visit Belize: Royal Family plans for Queen's Diamond Jubilee unveiled

In the News Today:

- Stoning allegation and threat to shoot PM's house
- Toys Destined for Needy Children Stolen
- VIP says Peace Corp promoting gay issues in schools
- Bank versus Port, the Saga Continues

Check back at belizedragonfly.com under News to get a daily update of what is happening in Belize